ABOUT FEBT

The Faculty of Economics, Business, and Tourism (FEBT) was established in 1975. Today, with around 2,400 students and 127 employees, FEBT is one of the largest faculties in Croatia and part of the University of Split - Croatia's second-largest higher education institution.

FEBT is located in Split, the second-largest city in the Republic of Croatia and is the largest constituent of the University of Split (UniST).

FEBT employs 127 staff, of which 92 are academic and 35 are administrative positions. At present, slightly over 2,400 students are studying in one of twelve study programmes offered by FEBT at the level of undergraduate and graduate university and professional study programmes and postgraduate specialist and doctoral study programmes.

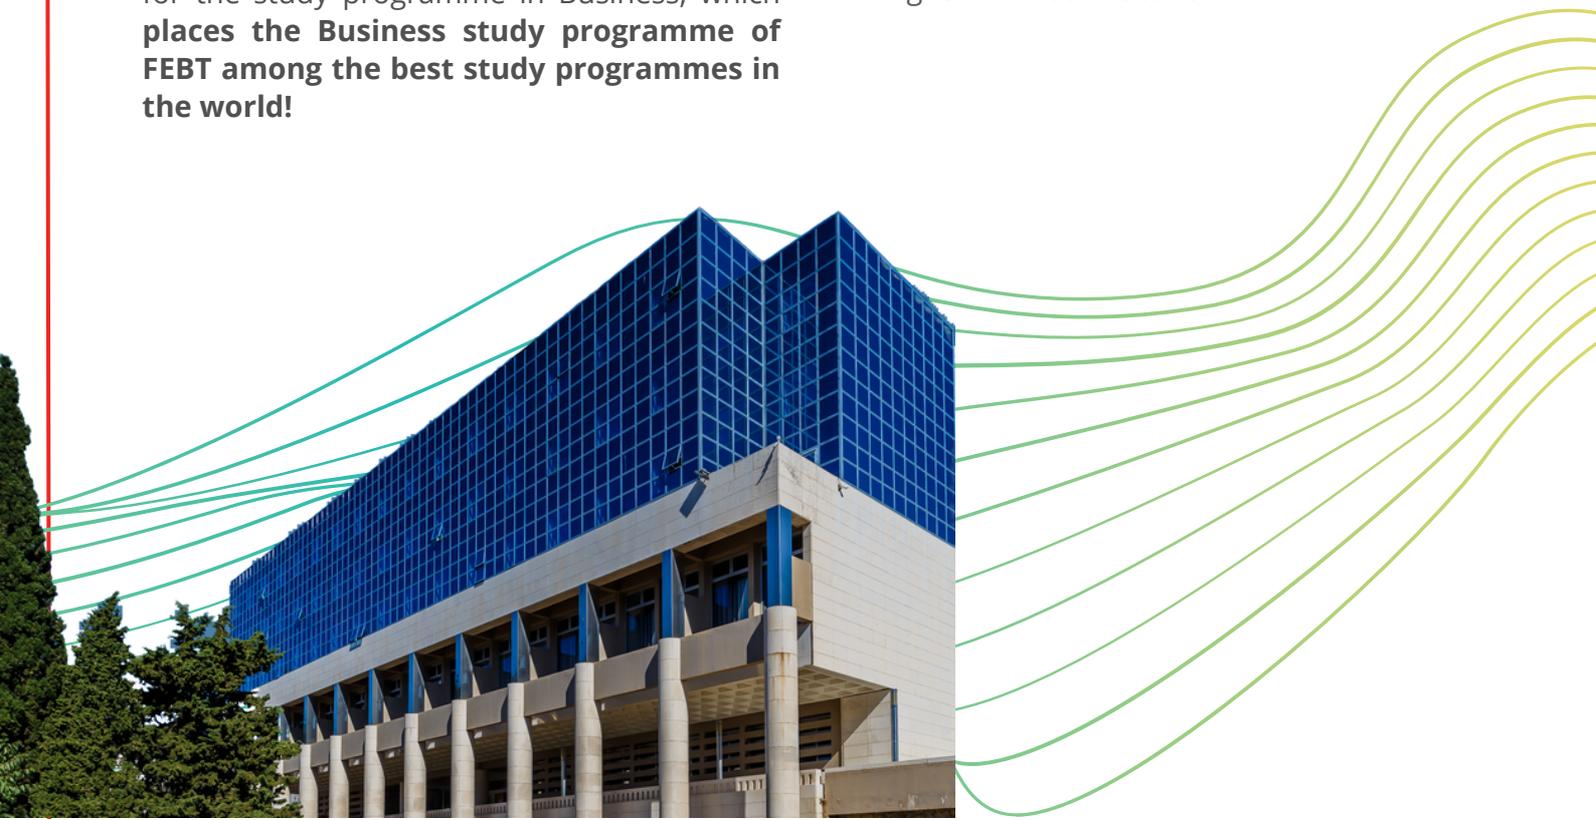

In 2022, FEBT was awarded the prestigious EFMD (European Foundation for Management Development) accreditation for the study programme in Business, which places the Business study programme of FEBT among the best study programmes in the world!

FEBT was declared the leader in Croatia in support of the development of Start-ups through the Student Business Incubator.

The Student Business Incubator (SBI) has operated at the Faculty of Economics, Business, and Tourism since 2015. It is intended for all University of Split students inclined toward entrepreneurship.

The Faculty offers students the opportunity to complete part of their studies or professional practice abroad at over 60 renowned institutions from more than 20 countries and inclusion in the world of work through international professional training in over 100 companies and associations from the most diverse spheres of activity.

The faculty offers a wide range of courses taught in English for exchange students (on mobility schemes) with plans to provide full-time programs in English in near future.

01 Regional Development in Post-crisis and Post-global World

Course description

The course explores the most recent and exciting work in regional development. Both theoretical and empirical aspects will be covered, focusing on regional policy that improves economic well-being in different regions. The course allows the participants to enhance analytical and critical skills relevant to developing a holistic perspective on regional development, focusing on issues of the post-crisis and post-globalized world.

Target audience

- Graduate and postgraduate students in economics (or in social sciences, technical sciences, or science-related fields) who intend to round out their knowledge in the field and use it in the process of preparing dissertations
- Holders of undergraduate degrees or students in last year of their studies in economics or the social sciences who wish to study the field of regional economics
- Researchers and professionals working in the field

Evaluation

Participants who wish to acquire 6 ECTS will be evaluated based on regular and active course attendance and taking an exam as a take-home essay.

The essay's goal is to show the necessary ability to think critically about the challenges of behavioral economics and the essay should have approximately 10.000 words.

Participants not interested in credit transfer will receive the Certificate of Attendance, stating the course completed. These students will be neither evaluated nor graded.

Credits (ECTS)

Upon completing the course, participants will be awarded 6 ECTS equivalent marks.

03 Microeconometrics in STATA

Course description

The FEBT Summer school Microeconometrics in STATA specializes in the use of statistical methods and research designs essential for high-quality empirical economic work. The experts in the field will provide the scientific and practical knowledge of methods used for testing causal relationships in economic and business processes. This course will provide up-to-date coverage of different microeconomic methods and models. Apart from a review of relevant theory, the focus of the course is on the practical application of microeconomic techniques appropriate for different data and contexts.

Target audience

- Graduate and postgraduate students in economics (or in social sciences, technical sciences, or science-related fields) who intend to round out their knowledge in the field and use it in the process of preparing dissertations
- Holders of undergraduate degrees or students in the last year of their studies in economics or the social sciences who wish to study the field of behavioral economics

04 Entrepreneurship, Innovation, and Creativity

Course description

The FEBT Summer school Entrepreneurship, Innovation, and Creativity is designed for students who want to develop their creative potential to innovate and are intrigued with the world of entrepreneurship. The program's main objective is to develop creative thinking, foster more excellent initiative, and understand the critical stages of the entrepreneurial process.

Target audience

- Last-year undergraduates
- Graduate students
- Professionals
- Students in other applied fields wishing to improve their knowledge in the field

Evaluation

The participants will be evaluated based on active class participation and the business pitch (oral presentation to the panel).

The goal of the business pitch is to replicate the real-life scenario where entrepreneurs have to be able to support their idea, demonstrate its potential and secure the initial capital to start their ventures. This assessment form also develops their analytical, critical, teamwork, and presentation skills.

Credits (ECTS)

Upon completing the course, participants will be awarded 6 ECTS equivalent marks.
